Weekend Rains Soak State

Neighbors Help In Tornado Clean-Up

Hundreds of farm neighbors and friends worked all day Sunday to help the Bud Mumm family clean up and move after a

Saturday night twister flattened farm buildings, and damaged the house on their farm near Hubbell, Neb. An estimated 3 1/2 inches of rain fell after the storm which caused heavy damage, killed some livestock but injured no one. The tornado hit an area between Chester and Hubbell. (Star Staff Photo).

Creeks, Rivers Rising

Superior's 3.65 Heaviest

Weekend rains ranging from moderate to heavy in spots soaked southeastern Nebraska. Most of the heavy rains came Saturday evening and diminished into light scattered showers Sunday throughout the area.

Superior reported 3.65 inches, Wymore had a 2 inch soaker and Fairbury had 2.50 inches. Lincoln received around 1.32 inches. Scattered light showers fell Sunday.

No reports of flooding have been received, however, although a weather observer at Ashland said Salt and Wahoo Creeks were rising. He indicated there was no danger since the streams were running about half full.

The Omaha Weather Bureau said Sunday a report from Topeka, Kan., indicated that the heavy rains upstream might cause flooding along the Little Blue and Republican Rivers.

Crest Expected

The report said a bank-full crest was expected midnight Sunday at Endicott, Neb. The Little Blue has shown a sharp rise because of the heavy up-stream rains.

The Republican River will crest early Monday morning at Hardy below the Harlan County Dam, the report said. However, waters are expected to stay within its banks unless more heavy rains fall.

The Weather Bureau predicted only light scattered showers Monday for the area.

The Nebraska forecast called for considerable cloudiness Monday and Tuesday night and Tuesday with showers and scattered thunderstorms mostly afternoons and at night. The highs for Monday are expected to be in the low 70's with no important temperature changes.

Twelve hour rainfall reports up to 6:30 p.m. Sunday showed Omaha, Imperial, Lincoln, and Offutt Air Force Base had a trace of precipitation. North Platte re-

Winds And Lightning

Heavy winds and lightning accompanied the week-end thunderstorms. Wind damage was light except in an area between Chester and Hubbell where a small tornado ripped through at least seven farms. Heavy damage was reported in spots.

The tornado missed Hubbell, but strong winds caused some damage. In places, branches and tree limbs were blown down.

Farms struck by the twister were those of Meridith Munn, Arlo Dohering, Ernest Deeke, Edwin Deeke, T. C. Laverentz, Tom Laverentz and Jess Young. No one was hurt.

Hail was reported in several areas. Towns reporting hail included Red Cloud, Oxford, Oakland, Nelson and Auburn.

The Auburn police station said hail and heavy rains were reported six miles east and two miles north of the city. Fruit on trees was said destroyed by the hail in the area between Peru and Brownsville.

Elsewhere, towns reported a slow, steady rain with occasional heavy downpours accompanied in spots by moderate to strong winds. No wind damage was reported.

A weather observer at York said the .72 inch of rain that fell there was the heaviest since fall. He said, however, that the rain was spotted throughout York County.

At Seward a 1.55 inch rain was accompanied by a severe electrical storm. No damage was reported. The Blue River and Lincoln Creek were reported rising, but no danger of flooding was expected unless more rain falls to the northwest.

He Misses His Family— GI Who Chose Reds Trying To Get Home

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP)—Otto G. Bell, an American prisoner of war who chose to remain behind the Iron Curtain, wants to come home.

His wife, Jewell Bell of Olympia, told of his decision Sunday.

She said her husband wrote in a recent letter he will return to her and their 4-year-old daughter, whom he never has seen, as soon as he can obtain a passport.

One Of 21

The former Army corporal was one of 21 Americans who refused repatriation at Panmunjom 18 months ago, choosing to remain in Red China.

Mrs. Bell, 21, said she sent photostatic copies of her husband's letter to the State and Defense Departments, asking their help.

She said Mrs. Frances G. Knight, director of the passport office, replied that the United States has no representatives in Communist China so cannot help her husband while he remains there.

U.S. Will Help

But, Mrs. Knight added, if Bell can travel to Hong Kong or any other place where the United States has representatives, the State Department will issue documents for his return and render all other appropriate assistance.

Mrs. Bell said she had not received a reply from the Defense Department.

She said she forwarded the State Department reply to her husband in China and told him he probably would have to face trial and serve time in a federal prison for his action.

Mrs. Bell said there was no evidence where Bell had any assurance of aid from the Communists in getting a passport or in getting permission to go to Hong Kong.

"It will take courage for him to return and face trial," Mrs. Bell said. "It would be easier for him to stay there, but, for our daughter's sake, I feel that he should have the chance to atone if he wishes."

Mrs. Bell revealed it was apparently her husband's love for his family that brought about his decision to seek to return home. Their daughter, Paula, was born after Bell went overseas with the 2nd Division in August of 1950.

More On Trailer Bill Expected At Legislature's Investigation

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Hearings by the Legislature's investigating committee are scheduled to be resumed Monday afternoon and a Lincoln man, Donald Witt, and Dan Katzman of Omaha have been subpoenaed to testify.

Both have been mentioned in connection with the raising of a $2,500 fund to oppose LB 8, a proposal to regulate trailer courts. Katzman, earlier witnesses said, has the money in his safe deposit box in Omaha. The bill was killed in committee shortly after the fund was subscribed.

The movement to get the money was started by members of the Nebraska Mobile Homes Association, witnesses testified Friday, but they said non-members also contributed. The witnesses were closely questioned why the money was taken from the association bank account where it was originally deposited.

Katzman, the testimony said, was empowered to employ a lobbyist who was said to have agreed to either get the bill killed or work without pay.

NORTH BEND, Neb. — A 34-year-old Columbus man, Edward John Modelski, was killed Sunday when the car he was driving left U.S. 30 three miles north of here and crashed.

Modelski was alone in the car at the time.

R. M. Evans of the State Safety Patrol in Fremont gave this description of the crash:

The car left the road about 120 feet before it came to a crossroad. The vehicle went down into a ditch at one side of the crossroad, bounced 35 feet over the road without touching it, and came to rest on its top 75 feet on the other side of the road.

Parts of the car were scattered over a wide area. The rear window, however, was found about 20 feet from the car in good condition. Evans said the window wasn't even cracked.

Negotiators Still Keep Bargaining

PLANTS ALREADY PICKETED

DETROIT (AP) — A strike began Monday morning at some Ford Motor Co. plants as company and CIO United Auto Workers negotiators reportedly were nearing agreement on a historic new contract.

First picket lines in the walkout were thrown around Ford plants at Cleveland and Buffalo, N. Y.

Ford officials reported other pickets stationed around the Ford jet engine plant at Chicago.

Ford, which already had agreed to a guaranteed wage plan and other contract improvements, although not to extent wanted by the UAW, was locked in a tense showdown bargaining session with Union President Walter P. Reuther.

Meanwhile, separate union negotiations with General Motors Corp. recessed for the night just before midnight until 12:30 p.m. Monday.

The intensity of the Ford bargaining sessions, continuing right on after the GM talks recessed, indicated the parties were getting closer on a new contract.

Vagueness of the UAW's precise hour for a strike led to advance walkouts.

Actually, the CIO United Auto Workers never has set a precise hour for a strike. AWP President Walter Reuther said yesterday it would be "at midnight Sunday." But Local 600, with nearly 50,000 workers at Ford's big Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, planned no walkout until noon Monday.

A union official was asked whether Ford workers across the country would walk out when midnight, local time, arrived.

"Just wait a while and you will see," he replied.

There was nothing official from the Ford-AUW bargaining room, or the separate and simultaneous union talks with General Motors Corp.

But an air of optimism hung over the Ford talks. There was a feeling, however, that any Ford settlement might be delayed well past the rather vague midnight deadline.

The heat was on the Ford phase of the bargaining, but talks were proceeding simultaneously between the CIO United Auto Workers Union and the giant General Motors Corp.

Ford negotiations were held at a downtown hotel, while the GM talks were taking place at the General Motors Building four miles away.

Despite the Ford strike deadline passing there still were hopes that a settlement could be achieved. An agreement either at Ford or GM on the UAW's guaranteed wage and other demands would set a pattern for the rest of the auto industry.

Ford negotiations were held at a downtown hotel, while the GM talks were taking place at the General Motors Building four miles away.

Hoover Group Asks Foreign Aid Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover Commission told Congress Sunday that the U.S. foreign aid program "despite many mistakes and waste, should be continued"—but on a narrowed and reorganized basis.

Seven of the 12 commission members attached a separate statement that called for "immediate substantial reductions," an evident plea for cuts in President Eisenhower's $3 1/2 billion dollar aid program now before Congress.

The main report, entitled "Overseas Economic Operations," declared that no more economic or technical aid should go to the European countries who were charter members of NATO — the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

No Manufacturing

And, it said, no manufacturing or large industrial development should be projected for the "Asian-African arc, with the possible exception of Japan."

The original NATO nations have received about 50 billion dollars from this country since World War II.

The commission under the chairmanship of former President Herbert Hoover, was set up by Congress to look for ways to save money and to recommend government reorganization where necessary.

Like Move Backed

The commission endorsed Eisenhower's plan to liquidate the foreign Operations Administration June 30 and to shift its central function to an International Cooperation (ICA) in the State Department.

However, it assigned to the new ICA a smaller sphere than Eisenhower had suggested. It proposed that 11 of FOA's operating duties be handed over to other existing agencies.

The report took an unusual turn. In addition to it, the commission put out a statement saying four of the dozen members were absent when the report was adopted. Yet 11 members signed various disents and statements — all but the chairman, former President Herbert Hoover.

The seven who demanded reduced appropriations — actually a majority of the commission — pointed out that the $3 1/2 billions request for the fiscal year beginning July 1 is 750 millions more than this year's figure and that more than half of the total is earmarked for economic rather than military aid.

Time To Cut

Surely, after 10 years, the time has come to apply some brakes to this overseas spending program," said the group, which included Sens. McClellan (D-Ark) and Bridges (R-NH) and Rep. Brown (R-Ohio). They added: "We believe therefore that the commission should recommend substantial reductions in expenditures for this purpose. By no other means will the growing trend toward permanent foreign spending be halted."

By contrast, Rep. Hollifield (D-Calif.) attached a dissent attacking many of the formal recommendations as being an unwarranted intrusion in foreign policy.

The restrictive recommendations, said the Californian, could "hamper the executive, antagonize our allies, and thwart our objectives."

He broke his message at the end of each phrase or sentence while a French minister translated his words.

Standing beside the blond American, the Rev. Jacques Blocher repeated Graham's sermon in French into a small forest of microphones and duplicated virtually every one of Graham's clenched fist and jabbing finger gestures.

"The whole world is hungry for spiritual reality," said Graham. "The answer is back to the Holy Bible."

"I believe a spiritual awakening in Paris will have a tremendous impact on the entire world."

Mom Dies; Children Got Cutter Shots

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A young mother whose children had been vaccinated with Salk vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories died Sunday of bulbar polio.

Her death was the sixth fatality in the current outbreak of the disease which has stricken 78 persons in Idaho. She was the 38th person in this state to contract the disease after close association with vaccinated children.

Meanwhile, a Utah scientist agreed with Cutter Laboratories that his finding of "probably a very, very small quantity of live virus" in one lot of vaccine called for further examination by the U.S. Public Health Service.

Dr. Louis P. Gebhardt, research specialist at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City, also agreed with a laboratory statement that if his finding is confirmed, "it will be evidence of the need for the new more stringent safety tests established last week by the service."

In Washington Sunday, Surgeon General Leonard Scheele said on a TV-radio interview that he was still waiting for a "full report" on the Cutter vaccine before making any statement on it.

The woman who died Sunday was Mrs. Annabelle Nelson, 33, whose two children were vaccinated last April with Cutter vaccine.

Omaha Cop Shoots Young Beer Thief

OMAHA (AP)—An 18-year-old youth, who police said attempted to steal a six-pack of canned beer from a tavern Saturday night, was shot by a police sergeant during his flight to avoid capture.

Treated at County Hospital was John Ault of Omaha. He suffered a bullet wound of the right knee. He was shot by Sgt. Melvin Stiles, who had pursued him to an alley.

Sgt. Stiles said Ault commanded the car of Thomas Grant of Omaha, when he was pursued by a bartender. The youth was speeding from the scene when the policeman drove up. The chase followed.

Stiles said Ault abandoned the car and fled down an alley on foot. Stiles commanded Ault to halt before firing. Although wounded, the youth got away, and was arrested later at a friend's house.

Less-Wordy Lawmakers Saving Tax Dollars

'SILENCE' WORTH $76,640

WASHINGTON (AP)—Something of a "golden" silence is descending on Capitol Hill.

A comparative silence, of course. On any given day there is likely to be a gush of oratory in either the House or Senate, or both. But the wordy torrents are fewer and less lusty than a year ago.

The change is reflected in a skimpier congressional record. And this means less of a drag on the taxpayer's dollar. At $80 a page the saving over last year, up to June 1, was $76,640.

3,548 Pages

The Senate met on 65 days before June for a total of 312 hours one minute. To record its "proceedings" for the first five months consisting mostly of talk the Senate took 3,538 pages in the Congressional Record.

That's considerable wordage, of course—at about 1,550 words to the page, it makes roughly 5½ million words. But look at 1954:

In the first five months last year, the Senate met on 93 days for 206 hours 25 minutes, and required 4,207 pages to put its "proceedings" in the Record—18 per cent more words.

House Talks Less

House members, who traditionally regard senators as unduly verbose, met 74 days before June 1 for a total of 258 hours 59 minutes. That amounted to 2,690 pages or slightly over four million words. The 435 House members thus used 23 per cent fewer words than the 96 senators.

But in the first five months of 1954, the House met for 272 hours 39 minutes and filled up 2,747 pages.

This new verbal economy is carrying over into the appendix of the Record, where members of both houses take opportunity to "extend" their remarks.

Up to June 1, 1954, the appendix ran 4,018 pages. This year, for the same period, the remarks covered only 3,786 pages.

How Come?

What's the reason for this? No one is sure.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) says it is his party's "efficiency." Johnson noticeably has discouraged long Senate speeches.

Others say Congress during a second session such as last year spends more time on the floor and talks more than during a first session such as this year.

Some may tell you that the present session is just plain dull.

Whatever the reason, up to June 1 this year there were 958 fewer pages of the Congressional Record and appendix printed than in the same five months of 1954. Which means, to the taxpayer, a saving of $76,640.

Loss Of Hand Overcome By Student

His one-handed ability to type at the rate of 35 words a minute are demonstrated by Dick Odgers for his graduation-day bride, Marie. Both Odgers and his wife, the former Marie Hanson, were graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University this year.

Richard Odgers was back in school 30 days after the accident and was among the 118 Wesleyan seniors getting degrees this year.

Dick lost his hand after it had become emmeshed in a meat grinder while working at a grocery store last fall.

As compensation, he mastered the typewriter keyboard with his left hand, using a piece of string attached to his right foot to operate the space bar, and was typing at 35 words per minute proficiency by the end of the school year.

Graduation day was a memorable day for Odgers and Marie Hanson of Fremont. After they received their degrees together in the morning, they were married later in the day.

Marie's great-grandfather, A. R. Wightman, was the first Wesleyan Dean serving from 1888 to 1893. She became almost a fixture at Wesleyan academic offices, serving for four years as secretary to the Dean of Women.

Dick, who has served the pastorate at Brainard Methodist church the past year, will continue with that responsibility this summer.

He and Marie will begin a new chapter this fall when he enrolls for a ministerial course at Garrett

Cameron's Reception Set For Tuesday

The Cameron family—recently released Lt. Lyle, his parents and brother—will arrive in Lincoln to a hero's welcome at 11 a.m. Tuesday morning.

The Air Force Sunday notified Mayor Clark Jeary that it will fly the Camerons into Lincoln's Municipal Airport after a stop in Omaha at 10 a.m. The Lincoln airman and his kin will be flown from Honolulu to Omaha with Capt. Harold Fischer of Swea City, Ia., and Lt. Roland Parks of Omaha and their families.

Jeary said details of the homecoming were not final yet, but he had called a meeting of his reception committee for Monday morning. A parade for Cameron will probably begin up O Street about noon, Tuesday, the mayor said, and a stop at the City Hall steps was planned.

The three of the four U.S. jet pilots released by Red China last week will leave Honolulu for home with their families aboard a special Air Force plane Monday afternoon.

The fourth, Lt. Col. Edwin Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., and his wife will remain for another 10 or 12 days. Heller will take physiotherapy treatment for his leg, injured when he bailed out of his plane in North Korea.

The Air Force said the special plane will leave at 2:30 p.m. (6:30 p.m. CST) and land at Travis Field, Calif., at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday (3:30 a.m., CST).

The plane will stop at Travis only to refuel. Then it will head for Offutt Air Base, Omaha, where it is due at 10 a.m.

From Offutt, a smaller plane will take Fischer and his parents to Swea City.

Fischer and Cameron and their families attended Protestant services at the Hickam Air Base Chapel Sunday morning.

Farm Couple Survey Twister Damage

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mumm of near Hubbell, Neb., survey their wrecked kitchen which they had just finished redecorating before a Saturday night tornado funnel swept down on their farm home and went on to hit neighboring farms. The Mums, who went to the basement, were unhurt but outbuildings were flattened, a fat steer, a cow and hundreds of chickens were killed in the storm. (Star Staff Photo.)

Residents Clear Away Debris Left By Hubbell Area Twister

Lincoln Star Special

HUBBELL, Neb. — A lightning-swift tornado which wound its way through Kansas Saturday night, played havoc with a half dozen farms in an area between Hubbell and Chester.

Hubbell itself escaped serious damages but trees and house roofs were damaged.

Heaviest damage in the area was about three miles west of Hubbell where farm buildings on the Bud Mumm, Arlo Doehring and E. F. Mumm farms were twisted and flattened.

Residents of the area had been warned and made their way to basements and storm shelters escaping injury.

At the Mumm farm, the family had just gone to the basement when the twister hit, tearing the roof from the house, breaking doors and windows and flattening every outbuilding.

A fat steer was killed and a cow died after being trapped in the wrecked barn and had to be chopped out. Hundreds of chickens were killed as they were tossed against buildings or drowned.

Across the road from the Mumm farm, the Arlo Doehring farm was strewn with the wreckage of outbuildings, but the house was damaged only slightly.

A barn on the E. F. Mumm farm was also wrecked. At the edge of Hubbell, one large cattle barn on the Otto Rolfs farm was left a pile of kindling while another within a few feet was damaged only slightly.

The tornado followed heavy rains which left three and one-half inches of water in the area and sent the Republican River pouring bankful. The river was expected to crest at Guide Rock Sunday night but stay within its banks.

Most damage was to power and communications lines and to the Seymour Packing Co. plant at the north edge of town.

The packing plant was damaged heavily with one building completely demolished.

National Guardsmen of the 287th Mortar Battalion took over traffic control and communications while cleanup work got under way Sunday and the town received even more rain.

Hearing Set In Boycott Of Truck Line

A hearing is scheduled for Thursday by the Court of Industrial Relations on the application of the Bee Line Motor Freight, North Platte trucking firm, for a temporary order halting an alleged boycott against it.

The Bee Line petition charged that several trucking firms have "illegally boycotted" handling of the company's freight at the request of the International Teamsters Union (AFL) under the so-called "hot cargo" contract clause.

The state industrial relations statute authorizes the court to issue temporary orders when in its judgment the activity of a public utility has been halted in a manner detrimental to the public interest.

Court Clerk George Turner said it is the first time the Court has been asked to intervene in a hot cargo case.

The petition alleged a telegram was sent to the carriers by the union's negotiating committee May 26, requesting the boycott. A purported copy of that telegram was attached as an exhibit.

Things Were Different Then

Nebraska's Carl Curtis, pleading with a Congressional committee for funds for construction of a 230-kilovolt transmission line from Fort Randall to Grand Island, told the group that such a facility was incorporated in the original plans prepared by the Army Engineers for power development in the Missouri Basin. But things were different then.

Mr. Curtis may have felt it unnecessary to explain the difference. It has been a settled administration policy since Mr. Eisenhower came into office to discourage building of transmission lines by federal loans to supply electricity to public bodies. Instead, policy has been to leave that over to the private utilities.

Nebraska needs the power badly. The heavier transmission line to Grand Island will supply adequate power to enable well irrigators to put water on the land, add thousands of acres of land to Nebraska's irrigated empire. Without it the expanded irrigation program will suffer.

Nebraska's Congressional delegation is unanimous in support of the Grand Island line. Unfortunately it nullifies its own effectiveness when it supports administration policy on transmission lines in other areas than Nebraska.

Nothing Changed

Whatever may have gone on behind closed doors it must be said that outwardly the Russian visit with Tito, Yugoslavia's dictator, was a labor of love without much reward.

Soviet leaders Bulganin and Khrushchev have gone back to Moscow holding their copy of a statement on world affairs that wouldn't buy much in the world market. It said principally that Red China's legitimate claims in Formosa should be recognized. But it didn't define them. It also said Red China ought to be given membership in the United Nations. But it didn't say when or under what conditions. And it also said the way should be paved for the peaceful solution of world problems.

All of that comprises a manifesto that anyone could safely sign and of which it could be said no reasonable, enlightened nation would disagree.

It was no surprise that Tito did not give the back of his hand to Communist China. He himself is a Communist. It would be inconsistent for him to reject the Communist principles elsewhere. But he is an independent Communist as his relations with Communist Russia proves and it does not follow that his endorsement of Communism in China is an endorsement of loyalty and support to whatever China desires.

All in all the U.S. State Department found nothing unexpected or disturbing in the Russia-Yugoslavia conversations rather accepting it as added evidence that the clearing skies of world understanding are continuing without change.

Fish, Fuss And Fowl

The State Game Commission is just a trifle irritated with the casual observer who glances here and there around the countryside and proclaims loudly that the commission should "do something" about apparent pheasant population decline, and do it at once. There simply isn't enough stashed-up research anywhere in the country, says the commission, to "do something" about it in terms of this year's hunting, or next year's, or for that matter, for many years to come.

Workers in the field have laid out a three-point course of study—natural habitat of the pheasant, stocking methods and their worth, and detailed facts on the life history of the bird—but much of the success of the long-range program will depend on the individual land owner. With the stepped-up farming practices of recent years tending to bring all available acres under cultivation, not much of the natural thicket and underbrush that the colorful cock and his hen call home has been left untouched.

Interior Secretary McKay had a rather peculiar request dumped in his lap from the Fish and Wildlife Service—one that he can be about taking care of some sunny day when other matters of more pressing import have been satisfied. Seems that the little fellow who used to drudge along through the years toward retirement day now dreams of "catfish farming" as a happy and relaxing pastime for those idle years. And the stock of the channel cat has gone up and in menu popularity until it occupies the favorite fish spot in many places. For instance, the inland commercial fisherman sold $4 million worth of catfish last year—but could have disposed of much, much more with more know-how on such items as care and feeding of the cat.

The temperamental catfish doesn't reproduce well when taken from native surroundings and dumped unceremoniously into farm ponds and such, and this is what has been added to the lengthy list of to-do's for Mr. McKay. The request reads: an appropriation for research on channel catfish propagation, the actual work to be handled under college or university management.

Leaving one to muse how much simpler it would all be with just a little co-operation from the transplanted Teleostei...

Our Best Crop

June—the month that is now with us—will bring the bulk of Nebraska's finest annual harvest, the 1955 yield of high school and college graduates.

From the smallest high schools to the extensive halls of the state's colleges and universities—from communities the length and breadth of the state—the young people will engage in the traditional ceremonies of graduation and to each will come a change in a way of life. For the high school graduate it will be a time for decision—whether to move onward to higher educational levels or to try the world as he finds it and it finds him. For most of the college graduates it will be the time to turn to the world, armed with superior preparation, to act in terms of heavy responsibilities and proportionate service. It will neither be the beginning nor the ending for any of them, but rather a continuing of life on new terms.

And it is a proud yield in the eyes of all Nebraskans for there is nothing a community can produce that can match enlightened, prepared youth. From such all things stem.

And as for the graduates themselves, the learning and the disciplines of the class rooms are valuable enough. But perhaps the greatest of the assets of the graduate is the knowledge that he has accepted a challenge and conquered it. He is a finisher.

Red China Wants Blockade Lifted

WASHINGTON — Prime Minister Nehru of India has given the State Department some unwelcome news regarding the proposed cease-fire around Formosa. As a result of Krishna Menon's many talks in Peiping, Nehru has told the state department that Red China will insist on the end of the economic blockade of China as its price for a cease-fire.

The blockade was imposed toward the beginning of the Korean war and has been maintained ever since. Though violated to some extent by western nations, nevertheless it has been effective enough to hamper the entire economy of China seriously, and Premier Chou En-Lai demands that it be lifted.

In fact, Nehru made it clear that this was one of the strongest conditions Chou had laid down in his latest secret talk with Krishna Menon.

Chou bitterly denounced the western ban on strategic shipments and said Red China would never agree to any truce unless the West formally pledged that every country would resume its trade.

FOLLOW-UP-LEADER

Howard Chernoff, radio-TV adviser to Sen. Kilgore of West Virginia, was waiting to see Pat Weaver, president of the National Broadcasting Company, whose New York office adjoins that of David Sarnoff, chairman of the Radio Corporation of America and top mogul for NBC.

Sarnoff, who seemed to have less to do than Weaver, and perhaps more curiosity, called Chernoff in.

"Why don't you get Sen. Kilgore to have lunch with the radio-TV industry?" he suggested.

"Would you come?" inquired Chernoff.

"That would depend on what Paley would do," replied the head of the giant radio corporation, referring to William S. Paley, chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System. "If Paley sent Stanton (president of CBS) I'd send Weaver. If Paley came himself, I'd come too."

SENATE SALLIES

Illinois' Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas, riding backward on the Senate trolley, remarked cheerfully to a tourist beside him: "We're riding this thing Republican-style. We're going forward while looking back." ... Indiana's puddy Sen. Homer Capehart, the jukebox king, was railing on the senate floor against installment buying. His GOP colleague, Sen. "Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota, jumped up to agree. "I think," suggested Langer, "we ought to start

MARQUIS CHILDS

Western Alliance Unified, Strong

LONDON — At the beginning of a new phase in the struggle between East and West the unity and strength of the Western Alliance are at a new high.

A review of the relative position of the two centers of power—Communist and non-Communist—shows that for all the faults and inconsistencies so widely advertised, the West has made definite gains while despite iron censorship the cracks in the Eastern front are evident.

Up to the present the struggle has been waged at long range. Presumably, with the beginning of the Four-Power talks in mid-summer, the protagonists will come to closer grips.

But despite the altered circumstances the nature of the contest will remain the same, since no one has any illusions that Moscow's fundamental objective has changed.

That objective is to break up NATO as the center of Western strength and get American divisions off the continent of Europe.

Threats and intimidation failed to prevent the admission of West Germany to NATO and the projected creation of a German military establishment. So now the method of negotiation will be pursued to the same end.

Short of some sudden and unexpected change in political landscape, the West will be leading from strength in those negotiations.

Despite some neutralism sentiment, West Germany has held firm and Chancellor Adenauer is determined to carry through the measures for rearmament called for under the Western European agreement.

The British election confirmed the Conservative policy of negotiating from strength, and while there was some political appeal by Labor on the basis of cutting the two-year military service, no one suggested any alteration of the policy of keeping British forces in Europe.

The level of prosperity and production in most of the countries of the alliance is extraordinarily high and although there are danger signs, such as the British railway strike, the outlook for the future is good.

Even in France, in spite of high prices and monopoly controls, production has reached new records. It must be said, however, that France illustrates one of the grave weaknesses in the alliance. That is the relationship of the western powers to colonial and formerly colonial peoples.

with the Capehart music boxes." ... Virginia's rosy-faced Sen. Willis Robertson, trying to explain a hopelessly complicated amendment to the Senate, finally blurted: "Don't listen to the language of my amendment. Just listen to what I tell you it means." ... Col-leagues are ribbing Sen. Strom Thurmond, South Carolina Dixie-crut, for taking up a full page of the congressional directory for his biography. Wisecracked Kentucky's Sen. Albert Barkley: "We should have invoked cloture (the anti-filibuster rule)." ...

ADENAUER TO NEW YORK
Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has demanded he be included in the western big three foreign ministers conference being arranged for New York June 16.

This is the meeting which is to fix the strategy the western heads of government will follow at the Big Four meeting with Soviet Premier Bulganin in July. And because the future of Germany will be the main problem, Adenauer will probably have his way and be invited to join the New York conference.

However, it isn't likely Adenauer will be invited to sit in "at the summit" later.

SIAMSE POLITICAL TWINS

The prime minister of Thailand, youth-looking veteran of Far Eastern political vicissitudes, made a great hit in the United States. Flying on a hectic schedule around the nation, he stopped after a visit at Niagara Falls to dine with Gov. Averell Harriman in Albany.

The plane trip was rough and the time short. But the prime minister and his entourage had changed clothes and were dressed in dinner jackets when they stepped off the plane to be greeted by the governor of New York.

Later, at a dinner given in his honor, Prime Minister Luang Pibul Songgram said in quaint English:

"I tried to prepare a speech, but we got in the airplane and we had much bumping. It was hard to prepare a speech because of the bumping."

"We are known for years to the American people for twins. Whenever we get what you call 'Siamese Twins' we send them to the United States. You know us because of twins."

"But now," continued the prime minister, "Thailand and the United States have another bond. We have become such friends that we are almost like twins ourselves."

BILL DOBLER At City Hall

Sewer Problems Still Unsolved

The City Council should take a long look soon at its registration fees and gas tax receipts and make some plans for use of the funds.

As helpful and necessary as all traffic control methods are, nothing can take the place of adequate streets for meeting motorists' demands. A drive over any number of streets at certain times will convince anyone that the desired adequacy does not exist. Such streets as East O, 27th, South and Randolph are entirely too narrow for the amount of traffic they carry.

Plans for the widening of these and possibly other streets should have already been well along but weeks of ideal construction weather have passed with no sign of any street improvement program. The Council is only letting the problem grow bigger and more acute by not tackling it now.

No doubt there will be expressions made in favor of spending the city's street money on the diagonal, but such a step would be a big mistake, in the minds of many, until certain other projects are completed. The diagonals will be a major improvement but their construction is extremely costly and they will certainly not remove entirely the demand for other good arterials.

What studies are needed for improvements to some of the existing bottlenecks should be undertaken immediately and plans made for completing some projects this summer. Available funds will undoubtedly not be sufficient to do all the work needed but there should be money enough to make a substantial start in some areas. Once again the time of heavy sanitary sewer demands has arrived and the problems involved are no nearer a solution now than they were last year at this time. Several main sewer lines are so overloaded that raw sewage is dumped daily into Salt Creek.

It is time the city and sanitary district forgot any past disagreements they might have had and get together on a plan of action. The basic determination to be made is which subdivision is going to assume the responsibility of the sanitary sewer system.

The district now owns and operates the disposal plant. This plant was recently expanded to the tune of about $700,000 but the operation there cannot move at maximum efficiency so long as the sewage cannot be delivered for treatment.

With the plant, it would seem logical that the district would assume all sewer responsibilities. Such an act on the district's part would mean an increased budget, no doubt a bond issue and possibly sewage meter charges. The district however, could probably expand and handle the problem more easily than the city could. With its utilities and other areas of responsibility, the city, it seems, already has more than enough to keep busy.

Of vital importance now is that no more time be wasted in seeking an answer as to by whom and how an adequate sanitary sewer system will be provided. New homes are continually going up in the most overloaded sewer areas, adding more pollution to Salt Creek. It would not be at all surprising if the city-county and state health departments stepped in this summer to force some kind of action. That would not be at all complimentary to either the city or district but if those two bodies fail to act, the health departments would be remiss in their duties in not pointing out the seriousness of the situation.

Some time ago when Mayor Clark Jeary announced he would not seek re-election, he made the statement that there was much work to do by the next mayor. Among the examples he cited was the sewer problem. Jeary reconsidered, sought re-election and is now mayor. All he is asked to do now is follow the advice he gave several months ago—settle the questions involved with the district and present a program of improvements.

Swimming enthusiasts are in for a double treat this summer—a new pool in University Place and a much-improved muny pool. Muny is not even recognized as the same place it was last summer now that a new separate baby pool has been added and extensive improvements to the grounds completed.

There is more space available now at muny for spectators and more room for swimmers to sun themselves. Some regular sun decks have been installed and new walks put in all around the pool.

The entire operation at muny will be better and more satisfactory this summer from the standpoint of dust. The entire drive around the pool is to be paved and an all-weather surface put on the parking lot. Both city pools represent money well spent and should return many dividends in both dollars and pleasure for the people of Lincoln. Not only are the facilities more attractive this year, but there is greater safety. The University Place pool, of course, has been constructed with the latest up-to-date features in all regards and Muny's new sloped bottom and separate facilities for children will eliminate many of the dangers that existed there.

Need Wherry Housing

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In answer to "Serviceman's wife," we are a Lincoln family paying rent in the $65 to $80 bracket and can readily understand her feeling in regard to Lincoln housing.

Some of the large older homes are still owned by old people and in order for them to cope with the increased high cost of living they have partitioned off their homes, making apartments.

Another reason for this might be the close cooperation of some who have the money for down payments on the big old homes who put in a few partitions and then ask as much rent as would pay for a new duplex.

Wherry housing is just now being heard of. But it seems that the low profit on it fails to make it attractive to investors. For this reason it will be necessary for the proper authorities to take the bull by the horns and see that Lincoln gets Wherry housing or we as Lincolinites and you as service people will have to contend with these present unsatisfactory conditions.

Forty-Hour Week

Lincoln, Neb.
To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The governor should not put into effect the 40-hour week law for state employees under anything like present conditions.

It looks as if the 40-hour week is based on three wrong ideas. The first is, the 40-hour week has become about the same as the Ten Commandments. But the fourth commandment states: "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." That stood the test of time till about 40 years ago when nobody had heard of the 40-hour week and everybody was better satisfied than they are now.

Another wrong idea is that as long as so many have the 40-hour week already, the objection to another group getting it diminishes, but it is the opposite way.

If three-quarters of the workers work an average of, say, four hours a week less, the one-fourth must add 12 hours a week to their own week to pay the increased taxes and living costs.

The other idea is that the state can afford the cost, so why not? Instances of extravagance given are not proof as these appear to be isolated instances of no quantitative importance.

Such an attitude is out of place in a state which is so careful with its spending for blind assistance, medical help for the aged, psychiatric help, road repair, school sal-

SARA ELIZABETH HERMINGHAUS

An exceedingly interesting betrothal announcement comes this morning from Mr. and Mrs. Ernst Herminghaus, formerly of Lincoln, who tell of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sara Elizabeth, to Ernest Russell Eggers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Eggers of Darien, Conn.

The wedding is planned for early summer, and the ceremony will take place in London. Miss Herminghaus attended Brownell Hall, and was graduated from Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa., and since her graduation has been studying in England.

Mr. Eggers was graduated from Connecticut Wesleyan University, and now as a Rhodes Scholar is attending Merton College at Oxford, England.

Mrs. Herminghaus stopped briefly in Lincoln on Friday evening en route from York, where she is residing while Mr.

THE news around town this aye definitely has personality—First the news of Sally Herminghaus's engagement — plus all of the Sunday weddings — then add a bit of this and that about these and those and we have quite a stock of news on hand.

JUST heard that Miss Kay Deppen arrived home on Sunday after completing her freshman year at Monticello College, and will spend the summer with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. N. Deppen — Mrs. Deppen, by the way, left on Friday to meet her daughter and accompany her home.

ANOTHER week-end homecomer was Miss Carol Marx who returned from the University of Oklahoma where she will be a senior next year.

AND we hear that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Linch and their two daughters, Marilyn and Patsy, will be leaving tomorrow for Wichita Falls, Tex., where they will visit Mrs. Linch's mother, Mrs. Francis M. Roberts, and her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Rhodes. When Mr. and Mrs. Linch and their daughters return in early July they will be accompanied by Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Rhodes who will spend two weeks in Lincoln.

TOOK a look at next week's calendar just to see what, in addition to weddings, was going on — Found that the members of the Safari Dancing Club have plans for Saturday evening, June 11 — their last dinner dance of the season. The party will be at Cotner Terrace and following dinner the new officers will be presented.

In charge of the dinner dance arrangements is a committee composed of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Reentz, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dietemeyer, Mr. and Mrs. George David, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kreuscher, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Steinacher, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Dworak and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin May. We hear that the affair is to be a "June Brides' Jamboree."

AND speaking of June brides — there are no idle moments these days for Miss Mimi DuTeau, whose marriage to William Andrew Buntin, Jr., takes place on June 16 — We've already mentioned the coffee for which Mrs. Earl Carter and her daughter, Miss Carolyn Carter were hostesses a week ago — and the supper and handkerchief shower for which Miss Mickey Walt was hostess last Thursday.

On Saturday morning Miss DuTeau was an honoree when Mrs. Hoyt Hawke and her daughter, Miss Holly Hawke, were hostesses at a mother-daughter coffee at their home. Twenty-five guests were invited, and the soon-to-be-bridal was presented with a hostess gift.

A Sunday party for Miss DuTeau was the 10:30 o'clock brunch for which Miss Agnes Anderson and her mother, Mrs.

O. M. Anderson were hostesses at their home. The 12 guests, who presented the bride-elect with a miscellaneous shower, included members of an old high school crowd.

On Monday Mrs. Julius Cohen will pay prenuptial courtesy to Miss DuTeau when she is a luncheon hostess at Hotel Cornhusker. Luncheon places will be arranged for 10, and following luncheon the afternoon will be devoted to bridge. Miss DuTeau will be presented with a hostess gift.

They Were Brides On Sunday Afternoon

MRS. EDWARD BJORLING

Arrangements of summer garden flowers appointed the chancel of St. Luke's Methodist Church in David City for the wedding on Sunday afternoon, June 5, of Miss Beth Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobs of David City, and Edward Bjorling, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bjorling of Lincoln. The Rev. Carl M. Davidson, minister of the First Methodist Church in Lincoln, solemnized the 3 o'clock service, and William Gilbert, organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Gilbert also accompanied Robert Yanike of Marysville, Kan., the vocal soloist.

MRS. LEONARD BAUSBACK

For the wedding of Miss Jacqueline Lee Erway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orvin L. Erway, and Lt. Leonard Bausback, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Bausback of Floral Park, Long Island, N.Y., which took place on Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the Christ Methodist Church, the chancel was appointed with fan arrangements of white blossoms, and the processional aisle was marked with lighted candles caught with clusters of greenery. The lines of the 3 o'clock service were read by Dr. Lloyd E. Watt, and the wedding music was played by Mrs. Lloyd Watt, organist, who also accompanied the vocal soloist, Jack Cole.

Dansuese frocks of crystallite in the pink and pervanche blue tones were worn by the attendants, Miss Beverly Connell, the maid of honor; Miss Beverly Hammel and Miss Barbara Martin, the bridesmaids. The empire bodices, designed with shoulder-wide necklines and brief sleeves, were outlined at the slender waists with folds which were completed with picture bows at the back. Pearl bandeaux held in place the brow veils, and each carried a colonial bouquet of summer flowers.

Donald F. Novak, Levittown, Long Island, N.Y., served Lt. Bausback as best man, and the ushers were Donald Erway, Donald Stewart, and Lt. David W. Allen.

Chantilly lace and tulle were combined over white satin to fashion the bridal gown. A lace bodice curved from the shoulders to slip into brief sleeves, and was snugly fitted beneath a wide V neckline of folded tulle and natural lace scallops. Billowing flounces of tulle gave a bouffant accent to the front of the voluminous lace skirt which was completed with a lavish train. A plateau hat of lace held to the head her triple-tiered veil of illusion, and she carried a white Bible marked with white orchids.

Lt. Bausback and his bride left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado, following a reception in the church parlors, and upon their return they will reside at 1135 So. 15th St.

Lt. Bausback is a graduate of Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa.

Had Afternoon Service

MRS. BAXTER TURNER

One hundred guests attended the wedding of Miss Bethene McCray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil H. McCray of Fullerton, and Lt. Baxter E. Turner, son of Atlas G. Turner of Cooleme, N.C., which took place at a 4 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, June 5, at the First Methodist Church in Fullerton. The lines were read by the Rev. Carl A. Sandberg, and preceding the service Mrs. Oliver Nesbitt sang, accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Nichols who also played the wedding music.

Miss Bernice Twistmeyer of Lincoln was the maid of honor and her frock was of Elizabeth blue crystallite. Above the bouffant skirt, ornamented at the hip-line with folds that created the illusion of bows, the bodice was snugly fitted and designed with a shoulder-wide neckline. She wore a hair bandeau of blue ribbon and carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies. Kathy McCray was the flower girl, and Wayne Johnson was the ring-bearer.

For his best man Lt. Turner had Capt. Harold Johnson, and the ushers were Clifford McCray, and Richard Greer of Lincoln.

A waltz-length gown of white organdy was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The shoulder-wide neckline of the fitted bodice was contoured with an applique of organdy in the rose motif which was repeated on the brief sleeves, and which dotted the extremely full skirt. Her double-tiered veil of illusion, held to the head with a pearl-encrusted crown, was waist-length, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies.

Sisters Have Double Wedding

MRS. ORLIE L. CURTIS JR.

At a double wedding ceremony which was solemnized on Sunday evening, June 5, Miss Idella Mae Krueger became the bride of Orlie L. Curtis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlie L. Curtis of Weslaco, Tex., and Miss Betty Lue Krueger became the bride of Edward Harold Macomber, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Macomber of Escalon, Calif. The brides are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Krueger.

Lighted white candles placed against a screen of lemon leaf foliage appointed the chancel of the College View Seventh-Day Adventist Church for the service, which was read by Elder William Bieber in the presence of 600 guests. The wedding music was played by Mrs. J. J. Thompson, organist, who also accompanied Sam A. Macomber and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClelland, vocalists.

Costumed identically in powder blue taffeta frocks fashioned with full overskirts of blue nylon net were Mrs. C. C. Krueger, as the matron of honor; Miss Jeraldine Krueger, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Mrs. James Kalebough of Donna, Tex., and Miss Arlene Robinson. The attendants carried rounded bouquets of pink feathered carnations.

Serving Mr. Curtis as best man was Charles House, and Samuel A. Macomber of Modesto, Calif., served Mr. Macomber as best man. The ushers were C. C. Krueger and Louis A. Johnson. The brides appeared in alike gowns of white imported lace and tulle over satin. Wide bands of minutely-pleated tulle contoured the rounded necklines, and the snug lace bodices were designed with long, fitted sleeves. Beneath the narrow waists, the tulle skirts were caught into fullness and extended into trains, and their illusion veils were held by caps of lace edged with seed pearls. They both carried cascade arrangements of gardenias and ivy.

A reception was held in the church annex following the 8 o'clock ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis will spend the summer months at Buffalo, N. Y., following an eastern trip, and in the fall will reside at Lafayette, Ind., where the bridegroom will complete his studies for a Masters Degree at Purdue University. Both are graduates of Union College.

Following a wedding trip to the Black Hills, Yellowstone Park and Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs. Macomber will reside at Escalon, Calif. The bride is a graduate of Union College and Mr. Macomber is completing his pre-medical studies at Union College.

Governor Lauds Elks For Work

ALLIANCE, Neb. (AP)—Gov. Victor Anderson Sunday praised the Order of Elks for the role it has played on the American scene.

In an address prepared for delivery before the annual state convention of the fraternal organization, Anderson called attention to the Elks' effort in establishing June 14 as National Flag Day and in providing medical care and therapy for crippled children.

Gov. Anderson, a member of the Elks, said the crippled children's program is "probably our greatest contribution to the American way of life."

"The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks has always been a sponsor of freedom, opportunity for all, higher standards of living and a greater chance for education, high standards of justice with equality under the law," declared the governor.

"Its members are from all walks of life, business and professional, and religious faiths—united in one common cause—to co-operate with others and maintain a nation unequaled in the pageant of history."

RIGHT—AN' SINCE I'M THE SUBJECT, DON'T MAKE ME TOO DAZZLIN'—IT WOULD OVERPOWER FOLKS.

OH, WE'LL WATCH THAT—FRIENDS, DO YOU USE HEAVY GREASY OIL ON YOUR HAIR? JUST TO MAKE IT STAY ON?

DO YOU SNEAR TONS OF STAPHYLO-STICKUM, AND GLUEY GUNK ON YOUR SCALP? STOP IT, FRIENDS, BEFORE YOU, TOO, BECOME LICKY-HEAD OF YOUR TIME!

USE MOTHER NATURE! SQUEEZE, FRIENDS, YOUR HEAD INTO ONE OF OUR PATENTED TIGHT HATS—THIS BRINGS OUT THE NATURAL OILS IN THE BRAIN AND SQUEEZES UP THE HEAD SOMETHING FIERCE!

DICK TRACY By Chester Gould

NOT ONLY IS THE VELVET FADED AROUND IT, BUT THE NAP IS FLATTENED OUT WHERE THE GUN WAS FASTENED.

DID YOU NOTICE THIS, SAM?

WHAT?

A CORNER OF ONE OF THE MARKERS—ONE THAT HAS BEEN TORN OFF.

AND AT THE JUVENILE HOME—OH, NO! NOT AGAIN!

DOIN' THE NEKI HOKEY BOUNCE—UH!

OZARK IKE By Ed Straps

THERE...THAT'S THE BEST CURVE BALL YOU'LL SEE ANYWHERE!

MAYBE YES—MAYBE NO! IT MIGHT BE INTERESTIN' TO SEE WHAT YOU'D DO AGAINST A BATJUH—

SAY SOMEBUDDY LIKE TH' BUGS' CAPTAIN, FER INSTANCE!

SOMEONE PAGIN' ME?

BLINKY! BLINKY! RIMMS!

HI, OZARK! WHAT'S COOKIN'?

WHEN PREPARING TO TAG A RUNNER SLIDING INTO A BASE, HOLD YOUR GLOVE KNEE HIGH TO GIVE THE THROWER A TARGET LOW ENOUGH FOR A QUICK TAG!

THE HEART OF JULIET JONES By Stan Drake

WELL—LINGERIE'S HOLDING ITS OWN ANYWAY, HARDY—

GOT A MINUTE, EVE? HERE—THIS WAY.

NOT ENOUGH, EVE—NOT NEARLY ENOUGH! LOOKS LIKE I'LL HAVE TO REVIEW OUR WHOLE MERCHANDISING SET-UP—RUTHLESSLY!

IT HAS TO DO WITH ONE OF THE INVESTMENTS YOUR GRANDFATHER LEFT ME—...I MAY BE THERE TILL FALL!

B.T., IF THIS FAN CRACKED AS EASY AS THIS IN THIS CELLAR, IT WILL DO IT IN THE WINDOW OF "TIME-PLAN-MECHANICS" BIG STORE IN LARGEBURG?

WE COULD GIVE IT AN ENDURANCE TEST ALONGSIDE OUR STAR-DUSTER WHERE THE WORLD CAN SEE?

AND HEAR?? WHAT A RACKET IT MADE? WOW!

CALL IT A VACUUM MARATHON? ...A VACUUM?

GREAT, JIM? AND TO MAKE SURE THE TWO MACHINES GET IDENTICAL TREATMENT—

WE HAVE IDENTICAL GIRLS RUN THEM, JUST LIKE YOU DID AT THE CONVENTION THAT TIME?

EEPS?

We're still carrying the problematical hod on the Bricker amendment. The patient is pending like perpetual motion or a self-filling ice cream cone.

What Sen. Bricker wants to stop is executive business during Yalterations. Especially when a roving portfolio is Potsdamming around with genius in his eyes and vine leaves in his hair.

The amendments are now so numerous the tail is heavier than the kite.

But whatever the Bricker blow-out patch accomplishes it arrives later than the 10-o'clock scholar.

Does Sen. Bricker want to padlock the starting gate after the boss fell at the Liverpool jump? His amendment should have been in the books 20 years ago.

The fine seam in your bifocals shouldn't stop you from gandering the meaning of the Constitution. That document is no legislative squid beclodding itself in its own ink.

It says plain as home cooking, "He shall have power, by and with the consent of the Senate, to make the senators present concur."

When you start hugging that elephant you are going to run out of reach.

Two-thirds of any senator should be enough to block an executive move. Provided two-thirds of the executive is in fair ground.

We see no more reason to get excited than a sun worshipper in the rainy season.

It was with the crocheting of the Eighteenth Amendment in 1920 that this writer said, "Of all our Constitutions I like the first one the best."

And for the record, on or off, he still does.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

I HOPE I CAN FIND THE GIRL WHO OWNS THIS HAT.

IT'S A VERY STYLISH HAT... I'LL BET IT BELONGS TO ONE OF THOSE GOOD-LOOKING MODELS I SEE AROUND TOWN!

UHP! MAGGIE! THIS MUST BE YOUR HAT!

YES—AND BE CAREFUL HOW YOU HANDLE IT, STUPID! ARE YOU TRYING TO RUIN IT?
